

Student Engagement Brainstorming

Ideas for increasing student engagement in the Sakai community

Notes from the BOF in Denver

WOW. Look What ELI is doing for their next conference:

<http://net.educause.edu/Program/1025897>

"Learners

Effective teaching and learning is, first and foremost, about the learner. ELI's efforts begin with a consideration of the learner, whether he or she is a Net Generation student, an adult learner, or a faculty member, staff member, or administrator seeking to learn how to use technology to improve student success. For example, presenters might consider including students in a panel discussion or presenting student work or videos that explore teaching and learning with technology from the undergraduate's perspective. To support this emphasis, ELI will provide complimentary registration for up to two full-time undergraduate student presenters per session."

Communications

Email List: You can subscribe to the list for this sub-group at <http://collab.sakaiproject.org/mailman/listinfo/tl-student>

Email Archive: This is a public list with public archives and it's listed among the other Sakai public lists. <http://collab.sakaiproject.org/pipermail/tl-student/>

To send a message to this group, you would send to tl-student@collab.sakaiproject.org

Student Engagement Subgroup

Name	Email	Institution	Willing to serve as co-facilitator?
Roger Henry	rjhenry@indiana.edu	Indiana	yes
Rob Coyle	rcoyle@jhu.edu	Johns Hopkins
Rita Pavolka	pavolka@indiana.edu	Indiana University
Amber D. Evans	adevans@vt.edu	Virginia Tech	yes