

PC-Description

A Conditional Release architecture and design, which involve a "ConditionService" which will work in concert with other services and store rules against a tool or domain object.