

See the terms users enter when searching

This helps Designers

- identify if the user interface uses labels that make sense to most users
- what users think they are able to search on
- what information they think they might find in their search