

TCC Communication

Communications

The principal communication mechanism for TCC members is the public sakai2-tcc mailing list. This list is open to non-TCC members. Occasionally, TCC meetings may be held, either in person or otherwise, but a summary of the meeting and any decisions taken will be published on list.

The TCC also provides updates on its activities to the Announcements, Management, QA, and Development lists as needed.

Given the public nature of the sakai2-tcc mailing list and its archives, TCC members and all other sakai2-tcc list subscribers will refrain from discussing potential or actual security vulnerabilities. Failure to respect this restriction may result in a list subscriber's removal from the mailing list.
