- The documentation will be designed to maximize the user experience of AT users with Sakai.
- Possible structure
  - AT settings for Best Sakai experience (multiple AT types)
  - Contact info
  - Known issues and work arounds
    - possibly by AT type or Sakai tool. This will be determined at a later time
- The documentation will show that the Sakai community cares about accessibility and usability.
- Jane and Scott will primarily be working with Gonzalo to update the documentation.
- Mary and Joe have agreed to help update the JAWS specific portion.
- Accessibility help documentation should be targeted for Feb. 1 so it is ready in time for the 2.9.2 release.

Release Team Meeting

- Jira ticket SAM-1692: default human language not being set up in a frame.
  - The primary language is set in source code so non-changeable based on language preferences of user or internationalization.
  - In future releases, the default language will be specified but will be chosen by the user.
  - A new parent ticket will need to be created in the overarching CLE ticket system because this issue touches many tools and the Samigo ticket should become a subtask.
    - Joe will work on creating the new ticket and work with tool managers to create tickets for there tool.
  - Neil suggested this issue be brought up at the next release meeting to see if this can be targeted for 2.9.2 or if it will have to wait till 2.10.
- Jira ticket SAM-1296: 5 minute warning modal box in test or quizzes may or may not get into 2.9.1. fix did not work as expected.
- 2.9.x maintenance release schedule
  - 2.9.1-rc01 December 7
  - 2.9.1-rc02 December 16

Sakai 2.9 Accessibility Review

Review in Progress

- Testing should continue as much as possible.
  - Joe will work with Brian to make sure the test server gets updated with new test builds.
  - Scott Williams and a Michigan student are working on testing as well.
- Because of finals, collaborative testing will be pushed off to after Christmas break
- Before Christmas break, the Accessibility WG will focus on tool review and once the RCs get release, reverify and do regression testing.

Any Other Business

- Collaborative test and quizzes testing is being pushed off until after New Years to focus on maintenance release testing.
- Accessibility Preferences will be pushed off until after New Years.
- Neil brought up the topic of NFB certification for Sakai
  - Joe thought it was a good idea because most other major LMS have some form of certification
